Committees & Organizations

Schedule of Committee and Commission Appointments, 1964-65

NOTE: The Committees listed herein have been authorized by President Theodore S. Raiford, and/or are required under the Constitution and By-Laws.

Particular note should be taken of the authorization of the House of Delegates of a Commission form of organizational activity and that all Committees, excepting Committee on Nomination, Committee on Negotiation, and Committee on Grievances, are segregated under the respective Commission in which the function of the committee logically rests. This will tend to eliminate overlapping and duplication in activity programs and result in coordination of the work of the Society in a manner to lessen the work of the delegates in the Annual Meeting of the House of Delegates

(The President, Secretary and Executive Director of the Society are ex-officio members of all Committees and, along with the Commission Chairman, should receive notice of meetings, agenda and minutes of committee meetings during the activity year.)

COUNCILORS DISTRICTS

Constitution and By-Laws of the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina

Article VI Section and District Societies

The House of Delegates may provide for a division on the scientific work of the Society into appropriate sections, and for the organization of such councilor district societies as will promote the best interests of the profession, such societies to be composed exclusively of members of component county societies.

TEEN-AGE NUTRITION

What was in it for them?

All too often teen-age diets fail to meet the Recommended Dietary Allowances for calcium, riboflavin, vitamin A and vitamin C. Milk and milk products make an excellent base on which to build nutritionally complete teen-age diets.

More than 40 different chemical elements and compounds have been isolated and identified as nutritional essentials for man. No one food alone can possibly supply all these nutrients in the form and quantity required by the teen-ager. The extremely heavy nutritional commitments of this age group are best fulfilled when the daily diet is selected judiciously from the milk, meat, fruit-vegetable and bread-cereal food groups in the proper balance consistent with individual needs.

Specifically, the milk group serves as a primary source of calcium, phosphorus, riboflavin, high quality protein, and vitamins A and D in the teen-age diet. The group also contributes generous quantities of thiamine, lactose, easily digestible fat, sodium, sulphur, magnesium and trace to moderate amounts of many other nutrients.

This wealth of nutrients makes milk an excellent base on which to build nutritionally complete and appetizing teen-age diets. Available in many different palatable forms, milk and other dairy products provide flexibility in planning the balanced meals needed to satisfy the exacting nutritional requirements of adolescence.

The teen-ager would be hard put indeed to meet the recommended allowances for calcium and to a lesser extent for riboflavin and protein without including at least one quart of milk—or its equivalent in other dairy products—in the well-balanced daily diet.

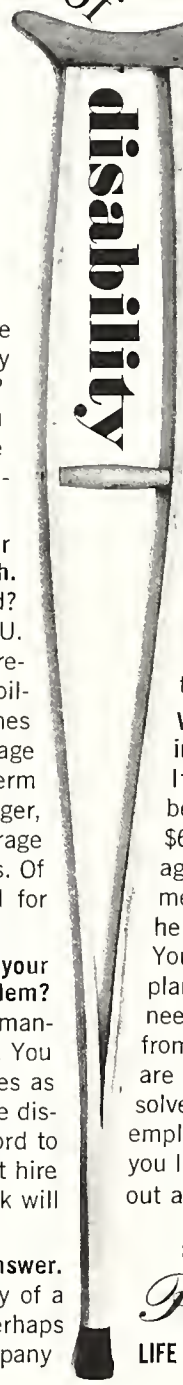
the importance of income continuation insurance in time of disability



Problem: How long will you continue the salary of an employee who is temporarily or permanently disabled? Three months? One year? Two years? For life? If you have never faced this problem you are indeed fortunate, because most businesses will many times over.

Incidence of disability many times greater than death.

What are the chances of being disabled? From a recent study reported in the C.L.U. Journal, the following startling facts are revealed. At age 30, the chances of a disability lasting 3 months or longer are 2.7 times greater than death. Of 1,000 people now age 35, approximately 330 will suffer a long-term disability, defined as three months or longer, before age 65. One out of three! The average length of disability will be over five years. Of this group nearly 30% will be disabled for life. Three out of ten!

Why does the employee problem become your problem?

Employees and the community look to management for help when adversity strikes. You recognize a moral obligation to employees as well as stockholders. You want to help the disabled man and his family. You can't afford to continue his salary indefinitely. You must hire someone to replace this man so the work will be done. What do you do?

Here is the logical and economical answer. You agree to pay all or part of the salary of a disabled employee for a stated period, perhaps three months. This could become company policy which, once set, serves as a definite statement of what your employees can expect from your company in the event of a long-term disability. Then, you help your employees help themselves after that period, at no cost to you. This is accomplished by allowing Pilot to offer your employees a low-cost group family security program, which guarantees a continuing income to the disabled employees, perhaps even providing an income for life. Your employees enroll on a voluntary basis at substantial savings over the cost of individual plans.

What are the benefits of disability income insurance?

If the employee pays the premium, all the benefits are tax-free and he can receive up to $600.00 per month. The employee is protected against loss of savings, life insurance, installment purchases and other obligations for which he has contracted monthly payments to meet. You benefit from an efficient, easily managed plan that fully meets employee disability income needs. It removes a potential double cost hazard from your business. Improved morale and attitude are reflected in improved efficiency. This program solves one of the most pressing needs of both employees and employers. Wouldn't you like complete information, without any obligation? Write us today.

FIFTY YEAR CLUB

The House of Delegates of the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina in May of 1953, authorized the Executive Council of the Society to establish a special recognition for those physicians residing in the State of North Carolina who were members currently of the State Medical Society, who had established legal practice of medicine and who had actively practiced medicine during their life time for a period of fifty years.

Listed below in alphabetical order are the names and addresses of those physicians residing in North Carolina, whom the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina has recognized as members of the FIFTY YEAR CLUB of the State Medical Society. WHAT A DIFFERENCE A DAY MAKES . . .

One day is not much in the way of time, but one day added to another mounts up to a lot of time. The problem of "overstay" in hospitals is costly. Not only does it push up the price of Blue Cross for everyone, but it also makes hospital beds more difficult to get when you have seriously ill patients who need them.

Physicians help in holding down hospital costs by . . .

- discouraging too early admissions
- planning for operating room availability
- keeping a wary eye on overstay

Your cooperation is appreciated.
